Digital Notice Board

For Digital Corporate Communication, Whiteboard and Ad hoc Meetings

Our digital bulletin board solution is the ideal platform for distributing your information, product and brand messages. In doing so, the networked screens do much more than just play image and video messages. The digital bulletin board automatically welcomes guests, informs about daily news, events or ordinances, weather and the menu. In the version with touch screens, these also allow self-determined information retrieval by visitors or employees. Used in work and recreation areas, digital bulletin boards create additional hot spots for spontaneous meetings or creative workshops. In production, you can expand the digital bulletin board into a digital store floor platform if required - all in just one intuitive application.
