Meeting and Collaboration

For More Video Conferencing
– Tools for Interactive and Efficient Collaboration

The need for interactive presentations and the methods for creative, cross-location teamwork often result in complex technologies whose operation can present users with challenges. That's why we do much more than classic video conferencing systems - standardized (The Collaboration App) or customized applications (smartPerform Pro) add unprecedented simplicity and dynamism to your meetings, conferences or training sessions. Meeting and collaboration functions give you access to all media content from the network or the cloud. Work with interactive whiteboard and annotation features, leverage your established video conferencing solution, and combine it all with content from your participants' presentation devices to create an innovative workspace. The integrated meeting management takes care of the storage and distribution of your work results.
